

MARCONI DEBATE IN COMMONS TO-DAY

Unionists Expect Apology From
Lloyd George and Sir
Rufus Isaacs.

LIBERALS CANNOT AGREE

Motion Censuring Cabinet Members Who Dealt in Shares to Be Introduced.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
LONDON, June 18.—The debate on the Marconi share speculation, which will open in the House of Commons to-day, is awaited with keen interest and an absolute conflict of opinion exists in the House. The Liberal Unionists, led by Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Rufus Isaacs, will take the motion.

The Government has announced that it will not make any motion and for this reason it is assumed that the Opposition will initiate the debate with a motion by Mr. Caine, Unionist member for the Kingston division of Surrey. This motion, although it is not a censure of the Ministers who dealt in Marconi shares and of the Government for alleged want of frankness toward the House of Commons on this subject.

If the criticism of the press and public had been confined to the Unionists the Government would undoubtedly have met the attack of the Unionists in Parliament on the matter of the Marconi share speculation, but the much dissatisfaction has been expressed by the Laborites and Advanced Liberals that it is questionable if the Ministry will venture to take this attitude.

It is said that if all Lloyd George and Sir Rufus Isaacs with the countenance of their colleagues do to get to get on their high horses the Cabinet will meet to discuss the matter. The Liberal Unionists will support them. It is practically certain that Lloyd George and Sir Rufus Isaacs will speak, and it is said in Unionist quarters that they intend to frankly admit that in the light of after events they recognize that they made a regrettable error of judgment in dealing in Marconi shares.

No Excuse for Slanders.
The Radical Daily News declares that there is no likelihood that Lloyd George will apologize. His speech will be an uncompromising exposure of the slanders whereby it was hoped to interrupt his career. The whole course of the debate will depend on Lloyd George and Sir Rufus Isaacs. It is believed that if they express regret, both the Liberals and the Unionists will be satisfied and the attack will collapse.

Mr. Caine takes the line of ending with the addition of Mr. Caine's motion it would be followed by the resolutions of Mr. Lloyd George and Sir Rufus Isaacs from the Cabinet. The Government will stand firmly by them and will do its utmost to get Mr. Caine's motion defeated. Premier Asquith is especially known to be indignant at what he regards as slanders for the purpose of attacking Mr. Lloyd George and Sir Rufus Isaacs and is likely to express his views in a vehement manner.

The Liberals held a long meeting yesterday to consider their attitude, but could not reach an agreement. They finally resolved to await the speeches of Lloyd George and Sir Rufus Isaacs. The Unionists have determined no matter what happens to carry Mr. Caine's motion to a division.

SEEKS GREENS OF KILMANAHAN.

Dowager Countess of Donoughmore
Wants to Apologize to Them.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
LONDON, June 17.—The Dowager Countess of Donoughmore is trying to find the members of an old Irish family named Green, who emigrated to America about forty-five years ago after selling their home, Kilmanahan Castle, Clonmel, County Tipperary, Ireland, to her husband, the fifth Earl of Donoughmore. The present Earl of Donoughmore married Elena Maria Grace, daughter of Michael P. Grace of New York and London.

Five years ago, according to the Dowager Countess, some Americans named Green called to see their ancestral home. The owners were absent and the applicants were mistakenly refused admission. The Dowager Countess says that ever since that time she has searched in vain for the family for the purpose of tendering her apologies for the lack of courtesy on the part of the employees of the castle.

The Dowager Countess recently received a letter from Scotland Yard stating that something had been found in a taxicab in London, which had been identified as being the property of "The Greens of Kilmanahan Castle." This was known because some time before the property was found a man who gave the name of Green reported it to the police. He left without leaving any address with the officials of Scotland Yard.

The Dowager Countess hopes that the publication of this story in the United States will lead to the discovery of the Greens.

FOREIGN LOANS IN GERMANY.

Prussian Minister of Commerce Protests Against Their Flotation.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
BERLIN, June 17.—As a result of the recent failure to place the full amount of the new Prussian and Imperial loans, Herr von Sydow, the Prussian Minister of Commerce, has protested against the further flotation of foreign loans in the German market. The protest will have an immediate effect on the new Mexican issues. It affects only Prussia but will undoubtedly influence the action of other States.

WELSH CHURCH BILL PASSED.

Lord Hugh Cecil Loses Fight Against Disestablishment Plan.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
LONDON, June 17.—The House of Commons to-night passed the Welsh Church disestablishment bill on its second reading and it will now go to the committee stage. A motion by Lord Hugh Cecil that the bill be rejected was defeated by a vote of 357 to 258.

ALLIED SOVEREIGNS PAY TRIBUTE TO THE KAISER

Andrew Carnegie Announces
$25,000 Gift to Peace Cause
During Jubilee Fetes.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
BERLIN, June 17.—A banquet at the royal castle, which the American delegation attended, and a procession of Berlin students closed the jubilee celebrations to-night. The banquet was a brilliant affair, on the familiar lines. The procession was really a magnificent spectacle. About 200 student corporations marched with torches from the Moabit across the river through Charlottenburg Chaussee and Unter den Linden to the castle. The procession occupied an hour in passing a given point.

The Kaiser reviewed the parade and received a deputation of representatives of the student corporations. There were enormous crowds in the streets, who cheered the paraders.

The celebration to-day was for the Allied Sovereigns of the Federated States of the Empire.
Many of the guests reached Berlin last night but all were on hand at noon to-day in the Pillar Hall of the castle for the opening ceremonies and to-night they gathered in the hall for a state banquet presided over by the Emperor. The Empress Victoria is overtired by festivities of the past few days coming, as they did, on the heels of her daughter's wedding and was obliged to leave the royal box at the opera last night. Crown Princess Cecilie represented the Empress at the state dinner.

It was announced to-day that Andrew Carnegie has given $25,000 to the German Peace Society's newspaper, the Deutsche Friedenszeitung, that has for its main object the promotion of good relations between Great Britain and Germany.

The official programme of the day began with the reception to the royal guests. The Prince Regent of Bavaria, who is the Emperor's guest, presided as an upholder of peace. He presented the Emperor with a table and centerpiece in the shape of a ship in massive silver. The popular side of to-day's celebration began in a parade of trades unions, participated in by 10,000 men, and closed with torchlight processions at night by students of the Berlin University.

TO RUSH FRENCH ARMY BILL.

Chamber of Deputies Votes Urgency for Three Year Term Debate.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
PARIS, June 17.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day after voting urgency for the three years military service bill adopted by a vote of 381 to 139 to take up at once the discussion of each separate article.

M. Vaillant, Socialist, said that progressive simultaneous disarmament by all nations was the programme of his party. He advocated a union of France, England and Germany. He reiterated his previous statement that France had become a tool of Russian imperialism.

Premier Barthou and Minister of War Etienne protested against this statement.
M. Vaillant then outlined a scheme for a national militia along Swiss lines. This was voted down, 498 to 72.

M. Jaures, the Socialist leader, occupied the entire afternoon session from 2 until 6:10 o'clock, and will continue his speech to-morrow. He was eloquent as usual. He said among other things that Russia should learn that she is France's ally, not her master. France's military increase, said M. Jaures, was absurd and unnecessary.

He said that Germany was a plagiarist on German militarism and would still leave France 200,000 soldiers behind that country. Mr. Jaures declared that German militarism was facing insoluble difficulties at the present moment.

OCEAN FLIGHT FOR ZEPPELIN.

Voyage Can Be Made in Three Days,
He Says.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
LONDON, June 18.—A Berlin dispatch to the Daily Express says that Count Zeppelin and the technical staff at Friedrichshafen are convinced that a modern dirigible airship can cross the Atlantic and it is probable that a voyage to Germany to New York will be undertaken during the present summer. Count Zeppelin believes the voyage, if the weather is good, will not occupy more than three days.

Count Zeppelin has been in communication with the German Government on this subject. The Government is disposed to regard the project favorably. If the voyage is attempted several German warships will be stationed at various points on the Atlantic to render assistance if necessary.

CHINESE IN PANAMA PROTEST.

Ask President Wilson to Protect Them Against New Laws.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
PANAMA, June 17.—The Chinese residents in Panama and the Canal Zone sent a long telegram to President Wilson to-day asking the United States to intervene to prevent the enforcement of the new Panamanian laws which, they say, will practically drive many of them out of the country.
The Chinese say the United States has a protectorate over Panama and therefore should see that justice is done to all foreigners.

SUICIDE IS VERDICT IN MRS. HUDSON'S CASE

Chicago Woman Found Dead in London Said to Have Been Temporarily Insane.

HAD MONEY TROUBLES

Will Found Near Body Leaves
$5,000 to Woman Friend in
New York.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
LONDON, June 17.—The coroner's jury which investigated the death of Mrs. Viola McKenna Hudson of Chicago, who was found dead in her room in an apartment house in Westminster yesterday, returned a verdict of suicide by gas poisoning while temporarily insane.

Michael G. Herbert of Oxford, to whom Mrs. Hudson bequeathed £1,000, or $5,000, testified that he had known Mrs. Hudson for two and a half years. He saw her on June 14 and she was then in good health. Mrs. Hudson, he said, sometimes declared that she was tired of life because she was lonely.

Mrs. Tasker, the wife of the caretaker of the house in which Mrs. Hudson died, testified that Mrs. Hudson recently had her satchel stolen from her in Hyde Park. She had some money in it and slept badly that night, because she owed a little housekeeping money. She also seemed to be depressed over the smallness of a recent remittance from Chicago.

The other friend to whom Mrs. Hudson left $5,000 in her will is Bertha Ferguson of 314 West 100th street, New York city.

The directions left by Mrs. Hudson were to the effect that all her bills should be settled by the Northern Trust Company of Chicago. After these and the bequests named have been settled the remainder of her estate is to go "to my beloved daughter, Viola Margaret Hudson of 4218 Erie avenue, Chicago."

Another scribbled note was found in the dead woman's apartments which was apparently the copy of a cablegram which she had sent to Chicago. It read: "Mr. H. Am in trouble. Cable Bank of Scotland give me credit £100 (intended for $500). Most urgent. Letter following."

Inquiries made in regard to this cablegram showed that no answer to it had been received.

It is reported here to-night that Michael G. Herbert, the Oxford undergraduate to whom Mrs. McKenna Hudson left $5,000, is a son of the late Sir Michael Henry Herbert, who was Ambassador of Great Britain at Washington in 1902 and 1903, and who married Lella, daughter of the late Richard Wilson of New York.

DISCREDIT SUICIDE STORY.

Mrs. Hudson's Relatives Say She Had
$10,000 Income.

Chicago, June 17.—Chicago relatives of Mrs. Viola McKenna Hudson, who was found dead by gas asphyxiation in her apartment in London on Saturday, scouted to-night the finding of the coroner's jury that she had committed suicide because of financial embarrassment. Charles W. Hudson, divorced husband of the woman, and her own relatives insisted that she had ample means to provide for her wants. The income from her father's estate which she enjoyed yielded her approximately $10,000 a year.

Hudson, who is the son of a wealthy contractor, also made it known that he would contest the pencil written will which made George Herbert, an Oxford undergraduate, and Bertha Belle Ferguson, of 314 West 100th street, New York city, beneficiaries of the dead woman's estate.

The former husband asserts he will base his legal fight on the fact that the estate left by the woman was not hers to dispose of. According to Hudson the estate reverts to their six-year-old daughter, Viola Hudson, under the terms of the will of James McKenna, the daughter of McKenna only having the income for her use during life.

"While I haven't seen my former wife for more than two years," said Hudson to-night, "I have heard from her indirectly, frequently by postal cards, which she has sent to our daughter. After the divorce she went to California and eight months ago went to London."

"I am firmly convinced that she did not commit suicide. I have conferred with officials of the Northern Trust Company, trustees of her estate, and an investigation probably will be started. The dispatches say that the will was written with a scrawl and poorly spelled. That point alone is sufficient to warrant an investigation."

"My wife has a good education. Her handwriting was firm and her spelling better than mine. Then she was not of the temperament to take her own life. She had everything in the world to live for."

Officials of the Northern Trust Company substantiated the statement of the husband that the will made by Mrs. Hudson would be of no effect because she had only the income from her father's estate and in the event of her death the estate reverts to her daughter, regardless of any bequests the mother might make.

MRS. CHAPMAN CATT RESIGNS.

But Suffrage Convention Delegates
Beg Her to Remain.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
BUDAPEST, June 17.—The International Woman Suffrage Alliance at its meeting to-day rejected a resolution offered by the English delegates which proposed the establishment of an international press bureau. The German delegates in particular opposed the resolution.

South Africa, Galicia, Rumania and Portugal were admitted to membership in the alliance.
Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, the well known American woman suffrage speaker, and others addressed a meeting of girls.
Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the president of the international association, who gave notice of her intention to resign her post, was received with a great deprecatory ovation. Mrs. Schlimberger, on behalf of the delegates, appealed to Mrs. Catt not to resign. The members of the congress arose and applauded this appeal for some time. Mrs. Catt was overcome with emotion and wept, but declared that she was convinced of the necessity of a change of leadership. The congress refused to accept the resignation.

$103,200 FOR A REMBRANDT.

Portrait of Franz Hals Brings $58,000 in Paris.

PARIS, June 17.—One hundred and three thousand two hundred dollars was paid here to-day for Rembrandt's portrait of his father at the sale of the collection of Marcel de Nemes of Budapest at the Galerie Maiaz, Joyant. Franz Hals' portrait of a gentleman brought $58,000.

OPPENHEIM TOTAL, $735,305.

$10,800 Paid for a Commode in Last Day of Sale.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
LONDON, June 17.—The total realized from the sale of the Oppenheim collection of French furniture and objects of art which closed at Christie's to-day was $735,305.

At to-day's sale the Duvetons paid $16,800 for a Louis XV. commode constructed of oak veneered with panels of tulip wood in kingwood borders, surmounted by a veined red marble slab. Other big prices paid were as follows: Three Japanese pottery figures, with Louis XV. enamel, $10,500; a King XV. oval plaque of Limoges enamel, $11,155; a Louis XV. settee, $11,155; and a life-size bust of Bacchus in statuary marble, $1,205.

LONG JAIL TERMS FOR SUFFRAGETTES

Miss Annie Kenney Is Sent to Holloway Prison for Eighteen Months.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, June 17.—Miss Annie Kenney, one of the leading militant suffragettes, and the five women arrested with her were found guilty of conspiracy at Old Bailey this afternoon. The trial was the outcome of the window smashing campaigns in London some time ago. Edwin G. Clayton, an analytical chemist who was charged with having assisted the women, was also found guilty of conspiracy.

Miss Kenney was sentenced to Holloway jail for eighteen months. Miss Sanders for fifteen months, Miss Kerr for twelve months, Miss Barrett for nine months and Miss Lake and Miss Lennox for six months. Clayton, the chemist, got twenty-one months. Each prisoner was ordered to pay one-seventh of the costs of the prosecution, and the court ordered that they must furnish bonds for one year's good behavior after they have served their sentences.

The women were defiant as usual when the sentences were pronounced and Miss Kenney and Miss Kerr announced that they would go on a hunger strike the moment they reached the jail.

Miss Kenney, acting as her own counsel, addressed the jury with fiery and impassioned words that several times started applause, which was promptly suppressed by the bailiffs.

"If I have got to die to get votes for women I will die whatever your verdict," she exclaimed dramatically. "But it would be unjust to find us guilty and allow the Ulster Unionists to go scot free."

Miss Kenney accused the Government of treachery and trickery in its raid on the union headquarters. She declared that the Clayton documents taken from her flat, which alleged to implicate the chemist in the suffragette plots, belonged to her sister Jessie and were no concern of hers.

In closing Miss Kenney quoted several speeches which she said were delivered at various times by Cabinet Ministers, in which they upheld the right of the disfranchised to rebel.

Following Miss Kenney Sir John Simon, for the prosecution, demanded the conviction of the accused on the ground that grave criminality marked their acts, even though their aim might be termed legitimate.

It is said that Mrs. Pankhurst, who was released from Holloway jail last night on license, is in a critical condition. The militant leader was returned to Holloway jail last Saturday when she attempted to leave the place where she had been convalescing in order to attend the funeral of Miss Davidson. She was released again yesterday.

BAR PLAY PRAISING NAPOLEON.

German Managers Receive Protest
From Kaiser's Son.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
BERLIN, June 17.—Hauptmann's play, "Festspiel," has been withdrawn from the Breslau festival because of the opposition of the public and the Crown Prince Frederick William. The play celebrates the victories of a century ago. It overpraises Napoleon in German opinion and underrates the Prussian hero.

The people made an angry protest after the first performance of the play some days ago and the Crown Prince declared that he would resign from patronage of the festival if the managers continued to present the production.

The burgomaster of Breslau, who is now in Berlin, sent a telegram to-night stopping the further performance. The second presentation of the play was then proceeding and it was finished, but the play will not be seen again in Breslau. Hauptmann has made himself most unpopular by this work.

BUBONIC EPIDEMIC IN HAYTI.

Many Fatalities Said to Have Occurred at Seaport of Jacmel.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Hayti, June 17.—An epidemic of bubonic plague has broken out at Jacmel, a seaport situated thirty miles from here. Numerous fatalities have been reported.
The city has been isolated from the surrounding country by a line of troops.

SCENE OF BRILLIANCY AT ASCOT RACE MEET

Many Americans Present as Lord
Carnarvon's Rivoli Wins
Principal Event.

ELABORATE TOILETS SEEN

Special Precautions Taken to Bar Uninvited Guests From Royal Enclosure.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
LONDON, June 17.—The opening of the royal race meet at Ascot Heath to-day did not reveal any freak frocks. The dresses were mostly of soft, refined colors and black and white, though there were some striking exceptions.

King George and Queen Mary drove out in a coach with postillions in the quaint Ascot liveries of blue and gold, with jockey caps over their powdered wigs. The King wore a gray cutaway suit and a white high hat. The Queen wore a gown of pale blue of various shades and most of the women members of the royal family favored this color. One exception was Princess Patricia of Connaught, who wore a frock of white muslin.

The broiling sun brought out numerous parasols and some of these were remarkable. They were striped and in pagoda shapes.

Among the most noticed American women present were Lady Leith of Fyvie, formerly Mary L. January of St. Louis, who wore a gold and mauve brocade gown, a Medici collar and a black hat with blue feathers; Lady Newborough, formerly Miss Grace Carr of Kentucky, who wore a white silk gown with a tulle of black lace and a blue waistband; Cora, Countess of Strafford, formerly Mrs. Colgate of New York, who was in black.

The Countess of Granard, formerly Miss Beatrice Mills, drove in the royal procession, while those in the royal enclosure included Mr. Page, the American Ambassador, and the members of the embassy; Mrs. John Astor, Mrs. Joseph E. Stickle, J. Ridgely Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carroll, Raymond Belmont, Rear Admiral and Miss Clover, Miss Montgomery Carr, Mr. and Mrs. William Woodward, Miss Caroline Reynolds, Mrs. Lanfer Norris, Henry Harrison, J. P. S. Harrison and Mrs. Charles B. and Miss Alexander.

In view of last year's scandal involving the sale of tickets to aspiring social climbers and the fear of some sort of an outbreak by the militant suffragettes every person admitted to the enclosure had to pass the scrutiny of several of the Lord Chamberlain's officials as well as numerous Scotland Yard detectives.

The Ascot stakes, the principal event of the day, was won by Lord Carnarvon's Rivoli. L. Brassey's Catmint was second and T. Martin's Junior third. Twenty-two horses ran, including one from the King's stables and several owned by Americans.

E. Hulton's Sho-Gun won the Gold Vase trophy. St. Meriadoc was second and Bay Comet third. Only these three horses ran.

The $5,000 Coventry Stakes, for two-year-olds, was won by Col. Macdonald's Tetrarch. W. Clark's Courageous was second and L. Neumann's St. Cyr third.

PEACE ASSURED, SAYS CZAR.

Meeting With Kaiser and King
George Discussed in Receipt.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
ST. PETERSBURG, June 17.—The Czar issued to-day a receipt publicly thanking M. Sazonoff, the Foreign Minister, for the able way in which he handled Russian interests during the European trouble which arose from the Balkan war. The Czar refers with gratification to his recent meeting with the Kaiser and King George of Great Britain in Berlin at the time of the wedding of Princess Victoria Louise. He says this meeting manifested "an agreement on European politics which constitutes a lasting pledge of the security of peace."

CAVEIN INQUEST ON FRIDAY.

Coroner's Jury Will Hear Sixteen
Witnesses in Subway Tragedy.

The inquest into the eleven deaths in the Lexington avenue subway cave-in has been set for Friday morning at 10. Coroner Holtzhauser has provided a special courtroom in the Criminal Courts Building to accommodate all who wish to hear the testimony.

He has subpoenaed sixteen witnesses, including two members of the contracting company, an engineer, a Public Service Commission and the workmen.
He said yesterday that he had sent Corporation Counsel Watson a list of questions based on his observations of the shoring and condition of the shafts immediately after the accident.

STRIKE MAY DELAY SCHOOL.

Granite Cutters' Banks Augmented
by Men Who Took Their Places.

Many of the non-union men at the yard of Pagano & Co. employed in the places of striking granite cutters were reported yesterday to have quit and joined the strikers.
Most of the yards are short handed, and if the strike lasts a week it is said that structural ironwork and brick-layers on a number of buildings will be thrown out of work.

James J. Sweeney, business agent of the granite cutters, said that the bricklayers on a school in 113th street near Second avenue will be thrown into involuntary idleness to-day.

CITY YOTTINGS.

Fire in the four story rooming houses at 104, 106 and 108 Madison avenue last evening did $5,000 damage. The fire, which started on the top floor of 106, spread quickly. The place is managed by Mrs. M. Baker.

A stream of water directed against the windows on the third floor of a loft building at 70 Mercer street during a fire last night, broke the glass. William Fullam, driver of Engine 13, was cut about the head and was attended by an ambulance surgeon from St. Vincent's Hospital.

Reaching for his pipe, which had fallen from his hand, James Schuck, a ferry-boat fireman, 38 years old, lost his balance and pitched head first down into a basement at his home in 38 Clark street, Astoria, last evening and was killed.
When Charles Rudick, on trial for murder in the Supreme Court in Long Island City, was called to the witness stand in his own behalf yesterday afternoon he became hysterical and finally fell from the chair in a dead faint.

SALE OF MEN'S SHIRTS

$2, $2.50 and $3 grades
at $1.30

¶ We sell too many shirts to make mistakes on the score of value or of variety in an important event like this. And when we tell you that the values and the variety in this sale are the most liberal in New York today, you can rest assured that our estimate is in every respect a conservative one.

Where else can you find such shirts as these at $1.30?

¶ Mind you, the beauty of this sale consists in the fact that it has none of a sale's customary limitations. There is not only a most unusual saving in price, but there is infinite variety—not only infinite variety but a variety that is exclusive clean through! These shirts have been sold to us at a tremendous sacrifice, it is true, but we made no sacrifice in return. We selected and rejected patterns in the wholesale purchase, just as you will do in your individual purchase, and the result is as fine and representative a collection of Summer Shirts as has ever been assembled in the Saks store.

¶ The fabrics are imported and domestic Madras, woven and printed, Russian cords, soft mercerized cloths, and silk stripes, in a host of plain colors and smart designs. Soft and laundered models, with soft French or starched cuffs. All sizes and sleeve lengths. And all magnificent value!
